

NILA:

Mo has been one of the best mentors I could have ever asked for at the Harvard Legal Aid Bureau. She is a shining example of what I want to be like as a lawyer when I graduate. She is on top of every detail and the facts of the case, knows the law like the back her hand, can see exactly what the next step is, and most of all, she follows up and follows through. She has taught me how to better manage my time and discern what is legally important and what is not in each one of my cases.

I am learning so much from her. If I could be even half the advocate she is for my clients, I would consider myself a success. Mo, thank you for all that you do at the Bureau and the countless lives you have touched with your dedication to teaching.
